The Enneagram is a comprehensive and compassionate system that helps us understand the differences in personality as a way of better understanding ourselves and others. It says that there are nine distinct types (although overlapping & interconnected). The purpose of the Enneagram is not to put you into a box, but to help you identify both the strengths and the limitations of your personality “type” and to give you guidance on how to develop the capacity to move beyond “this is just who I am”.
